TWO ON-LINE TELEPLAY WORKSHOPS HAVE BEEN FILLED WITH 100 REGISTRANTS EACH. WE WILL OFFER A 3rd WORKSHOP TO ACCOMMODATE THOSE WHO WERE UNABLE TO ATTEND PAST OFFERINGS.

Announcing an On-line Teleplay Workshop
Thursday, April 2, 2020 from 11:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m. Eastern
Canadian Association for Play Therapy

Tele-health has long been utilized to provide medical services (both consultation and treatment) especially in remote geographical areas. Telehealth resources can support interactions when therapists cannot travel to children, youth and families or it is unsafe to do so.

Participants in this web based course will hear from therapists who have experience using digital tools in mental health service provision.

Course Facilitator:

Theresa Fraser CYC-P, CPT-S, RP, MA, RCT

This online course will address the following learning outcomes:

- Identify the benefits and challenges of teleplay therapy.
- Identify requirements for a successful and ethical teleplay therapy videoconferencing service offering
- Identify how your informed consent forms and office practices need to be adapted to include tele-playtherapy
- Review play therapy models that can be utilized in a tele-play therapy setting.
- Identify healing tools that can be utilized to create a tele-playtherapy kit for children, youth and families that we support
- Practice using tele-play therapy with other course participants.

Participants are required to have a:

- Sound cancelling headset or confidential room to participate in
- A computer with a web camera

Healing tools that include:

- 20 miniature toys of the participants choosing
- Drawing paper
- crayons and markers
- A shoe box, cardboard box
- Rice or sand in a small plastic container

- A few bibliotherapy books about topics the children and youth/ families that you support are working through or experiencing.

After registration, handouts will be made available for you to print out and use during the training.

Fees: $75.00 + HST
